

Start date: rolling start dates in 2024

Location: Milan or Rome

Oxera is looking for graduates in Economics and Finance to be based in one of our Italian offices to support the projects for 6-12 months.

Oxera is a leading economics and finance consultancy. For over 40 years, Oxera has had a strong reputation for solving challenges relating to financial economics and valuation in regulatory, competition, and litigation settings.

Our expertise spans multiple fields of applied economics and finance, and includes competition economics, regulation, valuation analysis, corporate finance, capital markets, behavioural economics, and corporate governance.

This blend of specialist skills and knowledge, alongside our deep links with leading academics, has earned the trust of investors, policymakers, regulators, competition authorities, and courts and arbitration panels throughout the world.

The team is highly international and has particular depth in regulated sectors (e.g. energy, transport, financial services, telecoms and digital, water).

Your role:

- close collaboration with colleagues in supporting the team and solving complex competition economics and/or financial valuation questions;
- conducting empirical and quantitative analysis;
- help writing reports, presentations and articles, independently or in conjunction with others.

What we can offer you:

- a wide range of high-profile and intellectually stimulating projects;

- highly competitive compensation;
- a multinational and collaborative work environment;
- the opportunity to work with some of the brightest and most experienced minds in the industry;
- first-class, hands-on learning and structured training and development opportunities.

About you:

- candidates should have an excellent academic record, with a postgraduate degree. The degree should cover topics in Microeconomics (and ideally also some Competition analysis modules) and/or Finance;
- excellent problem solving abilities and analytical skills;
- fluency in Italian and English;
- knowledge of any other EU language would be considered a plus.

How to apply:

- please send your CV and a covering letter outlining why you are interested in an internship at Oxera to: giulia.caracciolo@oxera.com. In your covering email, please specify that you are interested in internship experience. Please also specify your preferred location.

All applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, colour, religion, sex, national origin or disability, or any other legally protected basis, in accordance with applicable law.
